Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

The month of OCTOBER is the month of the ROSARY (Feast of Our Lady of the Rosary October 7th), so I would like to share with you some quotes by John Paul II from his letter on the Rosary from 2002. He writes, “With the Rosary, the Christian people sits at the school of Mary and is led to contemplate the beauty on the face of Christ and to experience the depths of his love. Through the Rosary the faithful receive abundant grace, as though from the very hands of the Mother of the Redeemer” (#1)

He encourages families with children to pray the Rosary. “Training (children) from their earliest years to experience this daily “pause for prayer” with the family . . . is a spiritual aid which should not be underestimated.”(#42). Even if it is not practical to pray five decades, families could find time to pray even one decade together.

I pray the Rosary every day, though rarely sitting in one spot the whole time. Driving, biking, jogging, walking, even doing chores - all are acceptable times in which to pray the Rosary. But I must admit that a truly contemplative Rosary, prayed with others in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament, is the most powerful. Any way we pray it, I encourage all of you to re-discover this beautiful prayer, based on Scripture, given to us by Jesus through Mary. O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee!

In Christ, Fr. Tim

THIS SUNDAY: Life Chain is asking you to join the pro-life movement as a witness that abortion, is in fact, the killing of an innocent life, the life of a baby, growing peacefully in it's mother's womb. These little ones can not speak for themselves and so we will stand peacefully and prayerfully to raise awareness of the atrocity of abortion. Join your friends, family and neighbors as we attempt to protect the vulnerability of those waiting to be born. Signs are provided.

LITURGY CORNER:

One of (Cardinal Newman's) best-loved meditations includes the words, "God has created me to do him some definite service. He has committed some work to me which he has not committed to another" (Meditations on Christian Doctrine). Here we see Newman's fine Christian realism, the point at which faith and life inevitably intersect. Faith is meant to bear fruit in the transformation of our world through the power of the Holy Spirit at work in the lives and activity of believers. No one who looks realistically at our world today could think that Christians can afford to go on with business as usual, ignoring the profound crisis of faith which has overtaken our society, or simply trusting that the patrimony of values handed down by the Christian centuries will continue to inspire and shape the future of our society. We know that in times of crisis and upheaval God has raised up great saints and prophets for the renewal of the Church and Christian society; we trust in his providence and we pray for his continued guidance. But each of us, in accordance with his or her state of life, is called to work for the advancement of God's Kingdom by imbuing temporal life with the values of the Gospel. Each of us has a mission, each of us is called to change the world, to work for a culture of life, a culture forged by love and respect for the dignity of each human person. As our Lord tells us in the Gospel we have just heard, our light must shine in the sight of all, so that, seeing our good works, they may give praise to our heavenly Father (cf. Mt 5:16).
