Reflection

Jesus, in very clear terms, commissions us this: "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to Me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.

How do these three readings help us deepen our relationship with one another? Because through baptism, we are all children of the Triune God. We must strive to come to a deeper love and respect for one another. This includes those who are not baptized, for We are sent to them also. They, too, irrespective of their culture, creed and race are made in God's image and love making us all brothers and sisters bonded by "Trinitarian love".

Jesus promised to be with us always. Jesus' disciples are invited to observe what Jesus had taught them, the love of God and neighbor. For many, the following of His word, would lead to baptism as a sign that they had entered into the family of God their Father. Being baptized "into the name" of Jesus takes on a special meaning. It confers on the person a special relationship with Jesus Himself.

Because of their communion with God, the baptized should live in communion with each other. To be baptized in the name of Jesus into the family of God is a tremendous privilege. Does it appear to others that we treat each other as children of the same Father? The feast of the Most Holy Trinity invites us to expect more and to do better than that.

The pattern of Jesus' life manifests the triune God who is "with us" until the end of the age uniting us with the Father and one another. Love begins in the Father; is manifested to us in the Son; and poured into our hearts by the Holy Spirit.

O

The power to live as children of God in love is available to us because of the presence of the Holy Spirit ... an inner spring welling up to eternal life.

Blessings,
Have a great week!
