INTENTIONS OF THE HOLY FATHER FOR MARCH:

Recognition of the Right of Christian Communities

That Christian communities, especially those who are persecuted, feel that they are close to Christ and have their rights respected.

St. Patrick, Pastoral Theologian

We might be wrong to take Patrick's statement about his ignorance at face value. To describe himself as a mere illiterate sinner was just a foil to highlight the glorious workings of God's grace. The style of his Confessio shows that Patrick was no ignorant man. He was a skilled writer in the traditions of the Church Fathers and of late Roman literature. Patrick's work should be read alongside the larger Confession of his near-contemporary, Augustine. Both were pastoral theologians of great insight, deeply aware of the presence of Christ in their lives.

Patrick's theology grew out of his personal experience of Christ, of his mission to Ireland, of the needs of the newly evangelized. Faith is not a knowledge but a life with Christ. Faith is not simply a matter of 'knowing' Christ and His teachings; it is a sensing of the presence of Christ and a response to that presence. Patrick grew to realize that faith is more than statements about God, a belief system of the head but an awareness of the presence of God sharing His life at every moment. Starved of reliance on family and friends, the boy Patrick on Slemish discovered he was not alone. This sensing of the presence and love of God shaped his life and became the foundation of all that he did. Faith is this awareness of the presence of Christ and of his own worth as loved by God which runs through the writings of Patrick.

Patrick's Loricum or Breastplate has the famous Celtic prayer, focussed on union with Christ: "Christ be with me, Christ surround me, Christ be in my speaking, Christ be in my thinking, Christ be in my sleeping, Christ be in my waking, . . . Christ be in my ever-living soul, Christ be my eternity." As Patrick prayed for the Irish people on the mountain in Mayo which bears his name (Cruach Padraig), let's pray for each other on his feast-day:

"May you recognize in your life the presence, the power and the light of Christ. May you realize that you are never alone, for He is always with you; that your living soul connects you with the rhythm of the universe. May the road rise up to meet you and the wind be always at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face, and the rain fall soft upon your fields. Until we meet again, may God hold you in the palm of His hand."

Blessings!

Have a great week.

Lenten Penance Service

Lent is a time to "make straight the way of the Lord." So please join us on Monday, April 1 at 7 pm for our Parish Lenten Penance Service. Visiting priests will be available.
